The Uppsala Forum on Peace, Democracy and Justice is a cooperative framework involving a number of Uppsala University institutions: the Department of Peace and Conflict Research, the Faculty of Law, the Department of Government, the Swedish Institute for North American Studies (SINAS), the Hugo Valentin Centre, and the Uppsala Centre for Russian and Eurasian Studies (UCRS). The purpose of the Forum is to increase interdisciplinary research across the partner departments, increase internationalization, and be a partner for both financial backers and receiver of such funds. The Forum organizes seminars, workshops, public lectures and manages a visiting fellowship program.
